

January Edition

Credits

Maya Norkin (5-348): President

Alejandra Principe (5-348): Vice president

Ilina Jetley (5-346): Editor

Nicole Murphy (5-346): Head-writer

Joshua Kim (5-348): Writer

Aanya Baid (5-348): Co- Writer

Rose Morden (5-346): Interviewer/Chess writer

Xaera Mehta (5-346) Interviewer

Louis Ueno (5-348): Advertiser

Sophia DeGregorio (5-348): Artist

Emma Chan (5-348): Artist

Xerxes Mehta (5-348): Layout manager

Monthly Question:

If you could have any superpower, which one would you want? Why?

Riddles

1. If two's company, and three's a crowd, what are four and five?
2. What begins with T, finishes with T, and T in it?
3. How far can a fox run into the woods?

If you send in an article, a drawing, your answer for the monthly question, or answer for the fun challenges, you might have a chance to be in the newspaper raffle, (you win a prize if you win the raffle!) give it to Ms.Teitelbaum directly or the people who are in the credits.

Raffle Winners for January

1. Atticus----- 4-344
2. Chelsie-----2-247
3. Bille-----4-343

Congratulations to the winners. And great job to everyone!

January Edition

Cluster Teacher of the Month

Interviewer: Rose Morden

Interview: Ms.Vazirani

Rose: How do you feel about being the cluster teacher of the month?

Ms.Vazirani: I love being an art teacher because I get to introduce students to new artists and I get to see everyone's creative unique style of making art.

Rose: Why do you think you are the cluster teacher of the month?

Ms.Vazirani: I think I might have been chosen because I teach almost everyone in the school so I am familiar with a lot of students even though I see you guys once a week.

Rose: Did you expect to be the cluster teacher of the month?

Ms.Vazirani: I didn't know that was something you did and I think the other cluster teachers are amazing teachers and love what they do.

Rose: Anything else you want to say about being the cluster teacher of the month?

Ms.Vazirani: I am very thankful that I was chosen and can't wait to read the interview with everything else you guys published in the newspaper.

Rose: Thank you for letting me interview you.

Ms.Vazirani: You're welcome and thank you for taking the time to interview me, I hope it turns out great.

Athlete of the Month

Interviewer: Xaera Mehta

Interview: Coach Barna and Coach Ramos

Xaera: Who is the athlete of the month?

Coach Barna: Athlete of the month is Sophia Ng from the 4th grade!

Xaera: Why?

Coach Barna: Well she has a great attitude is a great listener and always has a positive attitude.

Xaera: What are some examples of your answer?

Coach Ramos: She always has a smile on her face. She will work hard to make her team better and win.

Xaera: Anything else about the person?

Coach Barna: She is also on our morning track team and is not afraid to push herself to her limits.

Xaera: Thank you for letting me interview you guys!

Coach Barna: Thank you!

January Edition

Heat! A Book that will Blow P.S. 33

Away!

By: Nicole Murphy

9 fifth-graders at Chelsea Prep have collaborated to create a book, Heat. Leigh Smolensky, Sasha Tarelkine, Mariko Matsunaga, Cecilia Montgomery, Nicole Murphy, Lachlan Kelleher, Jyotsna Agaram, Louis Ueno, and Ali Yun are working hard to write their novel. The book follows the Willowbrook family, who experiences many tragedies along the road of life. Their mother goes to work and never comes back, as a result, their father, Thompson Willowbrook is forced to remarry, cajoled by his mother. He marries Lucy Cole, a cold, cruel woman, who hates the children. She sets the house to flames, her last actions before she runs away. The Willowbrooks have to face the challenges of adjusting to these changes. Cecilia Montgomery (one of the writers) said, “Heat is very captivating and you can’t wait for what’s going to happen in the next chapter. I felt very enthusiastic and passionate writing and editing Heat.”

Although the amazing story of Heat is for an older audience (9 and up). Kids can definitely try to read it when it comes out, and they always have the option to put it down. Look out PS 33, because Heat is going to blow this school-wide open!

P.S. 33 School Lunch: Good or Bad?

By: Joshua Kim

Many of the students of P.S 33 have parents that don’t have the time to make food for their kids. So, they have their children take the lunch provided by the school. This lunch is literally takes 1 or 2 minutes of effort, which results in terrible and unhealthy food. While some kids do enjoy this “not-so-great” food, others throw out their food keeping the cookies and chips added on to this food plate. A P.S. 33 student, has witnessed this, “for the burgers, they simply place a bread, then overcooked meat, and another bread. Even though this is true, students are very grateful that they food to begin with. Gpb.org states, “for kids, lunch is even more important because this is when they get their vitamins and nutrients for the day.”

Indoor Recess?

By: Nicole Murphy

When it is raining the kids at P.S. 33 have to stay inside. They can read, draw, talk, play games, etc. P.S. 33 used to have indoor recess. One or two classes would go to the gym or auditorium. They would run around, play, jump rope, etc. They would be there for 30 minutes, tops.

Now the students of P.S. 33 don’t have indoor recess. Why? Students don’t know.

“Well with indoor recess, it can be a little boring due to the fact that we have few games to play. I do prefer playing outside, because we have more activities to do actively, but once in a while, it’s fine, especially when it’s raining.” says Leigh

January Edition

Smolensky, 5th grader, Ms. Foster's class. Based on your opinion of indoor recess, write an article supporting your claim. It might have a chance of being in the next edition of the newspaper! Indoor recess was great when we had it. But just reading or talking is fine. Look out for new news about indoor recess!

PS 33's Events:

By: Rose Morden and Nicole Murphy

On January 10th, fifth graders at P.S. 33 performed for their parents and the fourth graders. They danced ballroom. The dances that are being danced were the Meringue, Foxtrot, Rumba, Tango, Swing, and the Waltz. In the end, they will dance the "Stomp" to the song "Everybody Dance Now!" Here is what each class performed:

5-346: The Swing and The Waltz

5-348: The Rumba and The Swing

5-202: The Merengue and The Fox Trot

5-347: The Tango and The Merengue

Chess Competition:

The P.S.33 chess team now have gone to the City Championships. The chess team has worked very hard and has prepared so much. Congratulations to all of them. Here are the teams of the people who participated in this amazing event the dates of 2/2/2020 to 2/3/2020:

- Elemenstry Championship Team: Rose Morden, Mahnak Islam, Luc Cacciatore,

- On the 4th grade, Sophia Ng
- On the 3rd grade, Felix Goodman
- On the 2nd grade team: Max Cacciatore, Wolfgang Doman, John K Ferrazza, Aden Huang, and Lingxi Lu
- On the 1st grade team: Jude Badawi, William Lucas, and Kai Hei Wong

Fun Challenge:

You can send a small piece of writing talking about what you like about P.E. or Art.

Answers to the riddles:

1. Nine, because of $4+5=9$
2. A teapot, because teapot starts with the letter T, ends with the letter T, and there is tea the drink in a teapot
3. Halfway, you can only run in half and the other half you're running out

"We work together in honor of our school, we unite, we shine bright and we shall be as one. We are what we are and we're proud of it. We are one happy school with a big smile."

- Veronica Berkovich 4-344

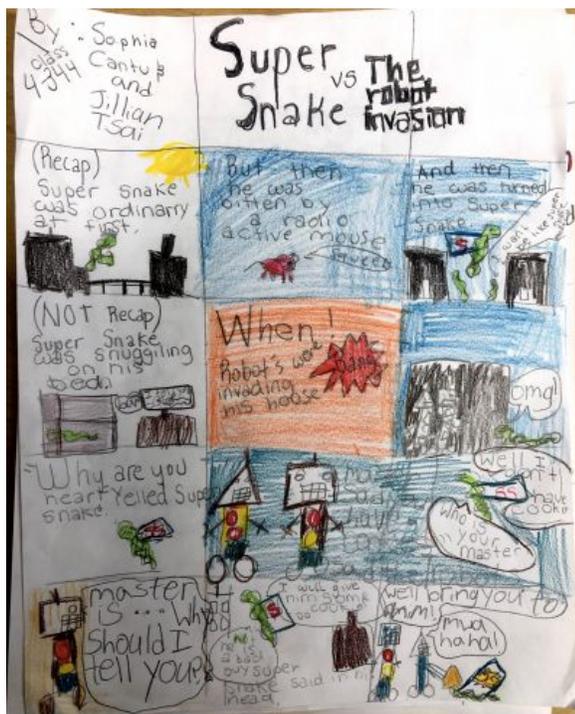

January Edition

Comics

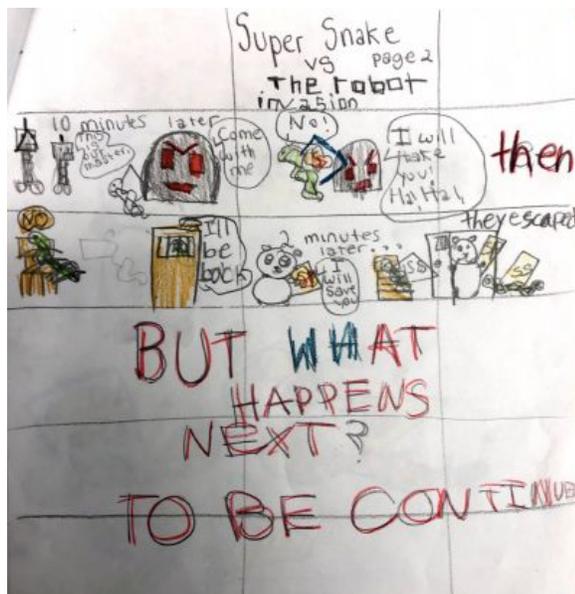

By: Sophia Cantu and Jillian Tasi

1st page

3rd Page

2nd page:

January Edition

Art

Section by Sophia DeGregorio
(Artist)

By: Jack
Class: 1-217

By: Kyler
Class: 2-247

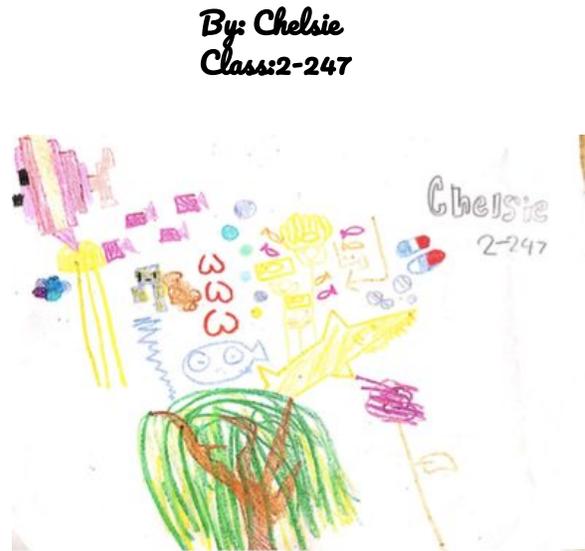

By: Veronica
Class: 4-344

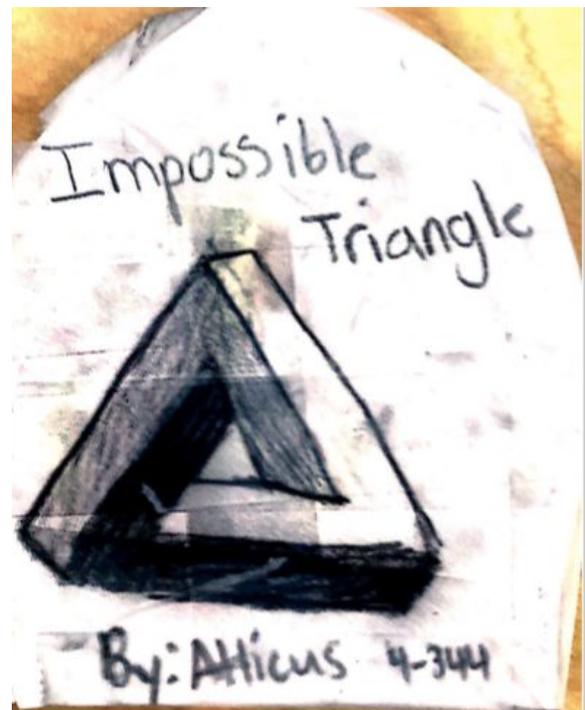

January Edition

By: Chloe
Class: 3-317

By: Chelsie
Class: 2-247

By: Atticus
Class: 4-344